EDMC proposes 3 new taxes to ease its woes

Also Plans Hike In Transfer Duty On Property

EDMC BUDGET 2021-22
Desperate bid to get out of financial mess

Paras Singh @timesgroup.com

New Delhi: East Delhi Municipal Corporation's (EDMC) executive wing has proposed three new taxes and an increase in transfer duty on sale and purchase of property in its annual budget proposals of Rs 4,647 crore for FY 2021-22. The pandemic, coupled with the North-east Delhi riots, had forced EDMC to reduce its budgetary projections for this fiscal by around Rs 1,700 crore.

However, 68.7% of the estimated income (Rs 4,265.4 crore) depends on external sources, including its 1,000 crore basic share from Delhi government and another Rs 2,000 crore from the government to cover the deficit on the basis of the finance commission's proposals.

Arguing that its revenue collection from advertisement, toll tax, parking, etc had reduced and it was becoming more

Restore 27 temples in Qutub complex: Civil suit

New Delhi: A civil suit has been filed in a court claiming that Qutub-ul-Islam Mosque situated inside the Qutub Minar complex in Mehrauli was actually a temple complex before it was dismantled and the same should be restored for worship.

The suit contended that it had been filed to "preserve and protect the religious and cultural heritage of India" and exercise the "right to religion" guaranteed by Articles 25 and 26 of Constitution of India.

According to it, the same could be achieved by restoring 27 Hindu and Jain temples with respective deities, which were "dismantled, desecrated and damaged under the command and orders of Qutubuddin Aibak", the founder of Delhi Sultanate.

The suit has been filed on behalf of principal Jain deity Tirthankar Lord Rishabh Dev and deity Lord Vishnu through their "maximalists", Hari Shankar Jain and Hanu Janna Anand, respectively.

PETITIONER SAYS

The temples were desecrated and damaged under the orders of Qutubuddin Aibak of Delhi Sultanate.

The suit, filed by advocate Vishnu S Jain, urged the court to declare that these principal deities, along with Lord Ganesh, Lord Shiva, Goddess Gauri, Lord Ganesha, Lord Hanuman and other deities of these 27 temples, have the right to be restored and worshipped with rites and rituals, performance of regular puja within the original temple complex in South West Delhi district.

A decree "be passed in the nature of mandatory injunction, directing the trust, to be created by the central government, to manage the affairs of 27 Hindu and Jain temples with scheme of administration framed by the central government", it demanded.

These also sought directions for restraining the defendants - Union of India, Archaeological Survey of India through its director general and the superintendent archaeologist, Delhi Circle - permanently from interfering in making necessary repair work, raising construction and making arrangement for worship and darshan of deities in accordance with sections 19 of Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Sites and Remains Act, 1958.

Ggn proposes cess on car and property registrations

Shubra Pant @timesgroup.com

Gurgaon: In the absence of any fixed source of income, the Gurugram Metropolitan Development Authority (GMDA) has proposed a slow revenue generation measure to make itself financially self-reliant. The measures put up for the chief minister's approval include a 10% cess on property registrations and a 5% cess on new vehicle registrations in the urban areas under GMDA's jurisdiction.

Officials said the proposed 10% cess would be charged as per the value of the property. According to the GMDA officials, Section 42(i) of the GMDA Act allows the state government on recommendation of the authority to levy a cess on property or vehicles. "As per the Act, this amount shall be collected by the MCG/ULB (urban local bodies) for onward remittance to GMDA," said a copy of the official agenda accessed by TOI.

While interacting with the media after the meeting on Tuesday, Khattar had said, "As per the figures presented to the meeting, GMDA is facing a loss of around Rs 200 crore. We are looking at alternative revenue generation measures so that the authority can take up more development projects."

Besides the cess on property, a proposal for cess on registration of new vehicles has also been proposed to the chief minister.

Many temporary night shelters for homeless ready, more on their way

Sidhartha Roy @timesgroup.com

New Delhi: Temporary night shelters that were set up by Delhi government are now functional and 250 more such facilities will soon come up to accommodate the city's homeless population. Delhi Urban Shelter Improvement Board (DUSIB), which functions under Delhi government and manages night shelters in the capital, has also deployed 16 rescue teams since last month to bring homeless people to its 212 permanent shelters.

DUSIB member Bipin Rai said that temporary shelters have become functional at locations such as All India Institute of Medical Sciences. "This is just the beginning and we are going to set up over 250 more temporary shelters this winter to ensure space for everyone," Rai said.

Rai said last winter DUSIB had set up around 70 temporary night shelters, which along with its permanent shelters, had catered to around 11,000 homeless people. "Last year, however, there was no Covid-19. This is why we are setting up more shelters this winter," Rai said, adding that arrangements such as hand sanitizers had been taken care of.

While usually two meals are provided at the shelters till last winter, this time provisions have been made for three meals, including breakfast and tea. DUSIB has also been asked to ensure six-foot distance between individuals to avoid the spread of Covid infection at the shelters. Apart from meals, beds and other amenities that DUSIB provides at these centres, additional medical centres, additional medical teams will be deployed this winter for health check-up of the homeless.

DUSIB started its Winter Action Plan 2020-21 for the homeless people earlier than usual this winter and the plan will be in place till March 15, 2021. In comparison with the 60-70 pagoda tents that were being set up every year as temporary winter shelters, more than 250 shelters are coming up this winter, keeping in mind the need for social distancing due to the corona pandemic. These pagoda tents, which are fire retardant and waterproof, will have beds and mattresses, apart from other facilities. The temporary shelters are being set up at locations where homeless population concentrations are high.

As the mercury started plummeting earlier in the capital this winter, DUSIB deployed its rescue teams to bring homeless people to its night shelters even before the scheduled date for the winter action plan to come in force - November 15.

DUSIB has also requested people to download its Rain Basera mobile application from Google Play Store, on which they can upload photos of any area with homeless people they want to help. The 18 rescue teams of DUSIB will be bringing these homeless people to the closest shelters. A DUSIB helpline number will also remain operational 24x7 through the winter season.

RESOLVE ACT: DUSIB has also deployed 16 rescue teams since last month to bring homeless people to its 212 permanent shelters

No need to queue up for bus pass anymore

New Delhi: Transport minister Kailash Gahlot launched an online bus pass delivery facility on Wednesday that can be used to travel in both Delhi Transport Corporation and Cluster Scheme buses. It will ensure hassle-free transactions for commuters and help DTC reduce infrastructure cost and save manpower.

As part of the service, all types of general passes can be booked and downloaded instantly. The concessional pass will be sent to the registered mobile number and email address within the next working day of the application, while its hard copy would be despatched within five days, the transport minister said.

The 'Online Digital Delivery of DTC Bus Pass Facility' is a 24x7 operational service that supports cashless transactions for issuance of all types of bus passes, the statement said.

After applying for a pass himself, Gahlot said this was the "next huge step in the smart, cashless and contactless transport revolution that Delhi is currently undergoing."

"With this facility, regular commuters can avail a pass while standing in long queues at depots," he said.
